history

Yan Lipao basketry is a superb craft of Southern people. Nakhon Si Thammarat is the most well-known source of production

It originated from being made as various kinds of local appliances that have been passed down from ancestors for many hundred years, such as a betel nut set, a betel bag, etc. A result of an exquisitely and patiently-woven work is not defeated any other kinds of fine arts. People in the capital city got to know about Yan Lipao when it was brought to the royal court by aristocrat from the South. Then, it was spread among royal-blooded. Later in 1974 Her Majesty Queen Sirikit gave the idea to establish a basketry group in the Lipao area including promoting and developing product to have better quality. To sell as a career to increase income for the Thai people.
